To whom it may concern,

I am writing in strong support of Eoghann MacColl's application to bring our work "The Good, The Bad and The Poultry" to Cumbrae with the Arts & Culture Participatory Budgeting.

"The Good, The Bad and The Poultry is Adrenalism's most popular work, having toured Scotland in Spring 2023 as well as a number of successful summer shows in Ireland and the World Cycling Championships in Glasgow. Billed as 'Easter Panto'; the show is a fun family friendly, outdoor chicken cowboy street theatre show featuring a three-hen shootout, "Hennio Morricone" - our Chicken Musician and a walkabout chicken coop.

Across the tour we offered 30 shows, to 1200 audience members of all ages. We offered Easter egg hunts, 'Aunt Sally' interactive character cut-outs as well as show stickers to the young cowboys out there, and we did all of this with no cost for those attending.

Adrenalism's aim is to make work that is entertaining, accessible and is connected to the world we all live in. We strongly believe that the best performances happen with diverse audiences in unexpected places and unexpected ways.

By providing this work for free to those attending, we wish to increase the number of those participating in the arts, but also encourage creativity and play for the next generations to come.

Yours sincerely,

Lewis Sherlock
